

In Jersey City, NJ the home/building owner is always responsible for the water or sewer service lines (or pipes) from the inside of the House or Building up to and including the service lines' connection (or pipes) onto the city's main line (pipe).

